Video Vignettes Disclaimer: Jenna and Tonya

A couple of notes about what this vignette both is and is not intended to be.

It is not:

- A real-life clinical interview with someone who is requesting behavioral health services. (It is a mock interview.)
- Intended to be an example of how to interview.

It is:

- A representation of information sufficient to score each subscale. Assume that in some instances the interviewer asked follow-up questions that were not included in the video clip. Omitted responses did not change the information relevant to rating.

Discussion

- Break into groups and score Jenna's CAFAS based on the information received on the handout and in the video
- You will have 10 minutes to complete this in your group
- On a separate sheet of paper, record the level of severity (30, 20, 10, 0) and item number you endorsed, then identify a group member who will report the group's findings
- Use extra time within this discussion to work on Team Challenge

Team Challenge

- Each group will be given four Team Challenge items (emailed to you prior to the training)
- Throughout the afternoon each group will present on the items they have been given
- Creativity and engaging presentations are encouraged

Reliable Interviewing

- Scores on the CAFAS are only as reliable as the information the rater obtained

Large Group Discussion:

- How might differences in interviewing styles impact scoring?
- What are some ideas to engage families while interviewing?

Lunch Time

- 30 minutes to refresh and relax

Outcomes

- Which of the five determinants of successful outcome can be observed in the report?
- What CAFAS Tier[®] is youth currently in?
- What Tier[®] was the youth in at the time of their Initial Assessment?
- Take note of the “change in pervasive behavioral impairment (PBI)” at the bottom of the report
 - PBI is present when the youth has 20's and 30's in School, Home, AND Behavior Towards Others subscales
 - Getting just one are below a Moderate Impairment (10 or 0 score) improves prognosis

Sharing CAFAS with Caregivers

Group Discussion

- Why is it a good idea to share CAFAS information with Caregivers?
- It's the therapist's responsibility to clearly explain the results to parents
- Explain the purpose of the assessment to parents/caregivers
- Caregivers have a right to know their child's assessment info
- Always ask parents if they want to know the results
- Helps build trust
- Ties the CAFAS to treatment outcomes
- Collaboration with caregivers is key; equal team members
- Hearing the information can be validating to a parent/caregiver
- Studies show that sharing outcome information with parents/caregivers significantly improves clinical outcomes and increases retention rates

Presenting Feedback to Caregiver

- Introduction: Educate the caregiver on the CAFAS and ask if they would like to proceed with the feedback from the assessment
- Credibility: Give background on the CAFAS, it's validity and the training that clinicians must go through to be reliable raters
- Premise: How it works to rate the CAFAS, reminder that the scores do not reflect the WHY but only the WHAT, no blame just highlighting areas that are causing stress
- Scoring: Explain the scoring levels (0, 10, 20, 30)
- Explain the Subscales
- Summary: Discuss any patterns, reveal overall score, and explain that progress will be seen as the score lowers

Refer to the “Presenting CAFAS Feedback to Caregiver” Handout for examples and more details.

- When you finish, message moderator in the chat that you are ready to be scored

Where is My Certificate?

- On DWC (where you registered for this training) under “Transcript”, then “Event Training Completion” tab

The screenshot shows a user interface with a top navigation bar and a left sidebar. The top navigation bar includes tabs for "Your Information", "Upcoming Events", "Event Training Completed", "Online Courses", "Training Videos", "Self Reporting", and "Reminders". The "Event Training Completed" tab is selected. The left sidebar contains a menu with options: "My Required Courses", "Self Report Certifications", "Transcript", "My Profile", "Update Password", "Notifications", "Support", "DWC Policies", and "Log-Out". A red arrow points from the "Transcript" menu item to the "Event Training Completed" tab. Below the navigation bar, a card displays "PECFAS INITIAL TRAINING 11/19/18 & 11/20/18". A date "11/19/2018" is circled in red, with a red arrow pointing to it from the text "Click here to view your certificate!".
